RECOMMENDED ACTION AND JUSTIFICATION:
Due to many circumstances, including the extended absence of one employee, the recent family emergencies of another, and mandatory jail operations course for two officers, we have used a considerable portion of our overtime budget. In looking at the current budget figures, I find that we have a total of $5,936.00 remaining in that account as of April 15, 2003. So far this pay period, we have used a total of 144 hours of overtime plus and additional 35.51 hours due for 90 day pay out. With more anticipated due to travel time for two officers in mandatory training and a scheduled range day on Wednesday in order to qualify prior to the rangemaster’s upcoming absence, I can see this increasing by approximately 30 additional hours this pay period. This averages out to approximately 210 hours at a cost of $5,300.00 that will be paid for the month of April. There are several problems on the horizon, including the upcoming pregnancy leave of one of our female officers and the uncertainty of how long she will be allowed to work. There is one female position which is still unfilled due to a worker’s compensation case and I am unclear on how long it will take to resolve that issue and there are still several weeks remaining in the jail operations course.
We still have approximately $34,000 in salary savings in light of the fact that one employee has been receiving worker’s compensation benefits for the majority of the 2002/2003 fiscal year. In the course of a “normal” month, we are paying out anywhere from $600.00 to $2,800.00 in overtime. Using the high end of the scale, we would need to transfer approximately $5,000.00 to this account.

We have added two new facilities to the Sheriff’s office, the Animal Control Facility and Station 3 in El Portal. We are currently supplying all household and janitorial supplies from this account to all facilities. This has included extra waste management fees, and janitorial and paper products for these additional buildings. We have approximately $50.00 remaining in this account. We have realized approximately $20,000 in savings in our food budget, which now stands at approximately $51,312.00. I anticipate that we will need to transfer $6,000.00 for the two months remaining in the 2002/2003 fiscal year.
