WHEREAS, fires during the past few years and the devastating floods of 1969 have forcefully brought home the urgent need for additional programs in our National Forests in California, and affected by programs for the Sierra and Stanislaus National Forests, not only to protect and preserve our forests for posterity, but also to take care of current need for maintained access, and and maintaining roads in the National Forests, and WHEREAS, the Sierra National Forest has 2500 miles of roads, without sufficient funds for proper maintenance, including drainage and location of culverts, and
