POLICY 13-22
(Supersedes Policy 89-28)

All applications for a permit for sewage disposal systems will result in a site investigation by a Registered Environmental Health Specialist (REHS) before a permit is signed off initially.

All sewage disposal systems installations will receive a final inspection by a REHS or Environmental Health Technician before it is given the final sign off by the REHS.

“As Built”, implying approval of a septic system that has not had one or both of the above inspections will be allowed only under unusual circumstances and must be approved by the Director of Environmental Health. Such approval should be sought prior to the installation of the system itself.
